Chapter 1 - Introduction to Communications' Thematics

This book will show you, in the first Chapter, how to improve your communications skills in your day to day life. People will be able to communicate efficiently if they understand laws and principles of communication. This book has the objective to help you to obtain a better quality of life by a better quality in your communication at all levels required to fulfill your life. You will peacefully interact with other instead of struggling with others.

In Chapter 2, we will explain: How to communicate using a humanitarian psychological approach instead of using psychology of power over people against them for own profits.

Chapter 3, we will explain what are the Universal rights on Earth. We will look at systemic model for protection of territories instead of defensive model to annihilate freedom. This model may be used individually and collectively. This systemic model puts emphasis in individual evolution instead of power trips over people for direct profits.

Chapter 4, we will present Peace agreement as a model of agreement between men, country, races, nations. How to develop communications systems for personal use, where each person has his own personalized communication center. This center will not be under control of information from people who wants to use people for their own profits whatever happens to others, or people who says they wants others profits but without their consents. Peace agreements are free will agreements between people and they permit a gorgeous evolutionary life.

Chapter 5, in futuristic science, we will look to Paradises to build and we will protect those paradises from invasion of destructives empires whom wanted to fight for Jungle powers and are under Hells laws.

In epilogue, we will terminate by explaining the individual responsibility for the future scenario on Earth. We will show that the best scenario may happen when the communication process follows rules of Humanitarian psychology instead of following destructive and iregression scenario with jungle or Hells rules.

In appendices, we will present you information for consulting purposes.

I wish Peace on Earth for people of good will.

Chapter 2 - Personal Communications

In this chapter, we present how to communicate in a sane way in opposition to how to communicate in an insane way. Those principles may be used in private and public life.

The sane way of communication gives a better world without major conflicts as we will explain in Universal Healthy communication. The insane way gives power to some people against other people as we will explain in Insanity in Communication

Being able to comprehend those phenomena will help the evolutionary process of communications. People will benefit from those understanding. They will have a better life in their communication with people. They will have healthy communications that may permit wealthy life. We will explain those phenomena in this section.

Section 2.1 - Healthy and Unhealthy Personal Communications
Section 2.2 - Universal Healthy Communication
Section 2.3 - Insanity in Communication

Section 2.1 - Healthy and Unhealthy Personal Communications

In the first section of this chapter 2 (2.1), we will tell you to go to sections that will explain what is sane and insane.

Section 2.2 will study good communications process. We will explain how to be healthy in twelve points. We will explain how to live harmoniously and simply in your communication field.

And

Section 2.3 of the chapter 2 will study what is bad communications and how it is done. How it is important not to fall in an unhealthy process. This will be exposed in twelve points the fighting in offensive and defensive mode. This alienated process will be explained in detail to help comprehend them and be over them instead of slave of them.

The healthy communication in section 2 is in opposition with unhealthy communication in section 3. The healthy communication is In opposition to unhealthy communication.

Section 2.2 - Universal sane Communication

Real communication involves some elements such as:

Subsection 2.2.1 - personal identity
Subsection 2.2.2 - dialogue
Subsection 2.2.3 - clear and precise message
Subsection 2.2.4 - reciprocity
Subsection 2.2.5 – responsibilities transfer
Subsection 2.2.6 - dynamism and free spirit
Subsection 2.2.7 - active listening and being really present
Subsection 2.2.8 - internal security
Subsection 2.2.9 - understanding people
Subsection 2.2.10 - control of our own energy
Subsection 2.2.11 - responsibility
Subsection 2.2.12 - universal respect

Subsection 2.2.1 - personal identity

Identity involves knowing our own territorial limit. That is actualisation of our personal identity and of our functional identity. Somebody who has no functional territorial limit feels as being nobody. This person feels without any significance. This is a basic human need to have our own functional identity and our own territory related to our own identity.

What implies being part of a territory, being identify by our territory, what is my territory?

My territory is functional: my spirit, my name, my experiences, my working competencies, my success, my accomplishment, my dreams, my choices, my involvement, my responsibilities.

My territory is psychological: my way to deal with events, my way to express myself, my own behaviour, my training, my scholarship, my personal process of evolution.

My territory is feeling: my soul, my affinity for art, objects, persons, animals, design, working environment.

And finally, others aspects of my territory such as: my body, my age, my gender, my health, my geographical space; my professional working space; my economical territory: my finance, my wealth, my way to deal with financial aspects.

My territory is also my communication tools such as my phone line, my Internet services, my mails, my emails and my computer apps, my IPad, my music, my credit card and other electronic cards. My identity is in constant progression and is always linked with my functional identity, my mastering of my territory, and my definition of my reality.

All experiences are related to exchange, sharing, participation and dialogue. This is only possible when we found reciprocal communication meaning dialogue.

Dialogue is rich because people exchange together. When people talk, this process is infinite because the energy flow goes from one person to the other and so on.

People talks and there is an interest between them about the information they share.

The energy flow goes on and on and permits problem solving and creative interfaces.

Dialogue is also important in Love and in creating Love. Dialogue permits two souls to exchange energies. This exchange regenerates them and real dialogue happens between those two persons.

A message must be clear and precise to transmit perfectly the information. Confusion, unclear information gives bad instruction for bad execution. Garbage in gives garbage out. However, more a message has clarity, more the result of the communication may also be precise.

A clear flow of information between receptor and transmitter will permit a win-win situation. Exchange are simple and efficient. Productivity is maximised.

Good will to transmit information in precise and clear ways demonstrates how great people communicates together and how great they will becomes together.

A clear, exact message helps scientific purpose because it permits to simplify knowledge access process. For example, clear Web pages are helpful for Information Research and Investigation Research. Clear web message permit also functional efficiency.

We must answered to others as well as we want to be answered by others to permit relevant feedback. The feedback is particularly important when somebody delegates a task to somebody else. The person who has to do the task must also report the information about the task to the first manager. Feedback permits efficiency and a good relationship between two workers.

The first person who gives instructions for the task is the first person to respond for quality of work. He has to care about the person who will execute the task to understand the way to execute it. He also has a responsibility about the doer, to permit him to improve himself. He has a responsibility within his own organisation to give a perfect work done.

Feedback permits great working accomplishment and great working team. Excellent communication gives excellent result.

Subsection 2.2.5 - responsabilities transfer

Transfer of responsibilities well done is important to permit a good task accomplishment. The worker must feel full responsibility for his quality of work inside the project and for his work with other workers. The result to be obtained is 100%.

In transfer of responsibilities, the employee is 100% autonomous, he will also be credited for it. He may become creative, ingenious and go further than before in his own greatness within his working limit.

In this operation, the manager may feel released because the employee takes charge of the work to be done. The manager will obtain management credit for the working performance of the employee and for all employees on his govern.

These employees feels happy because they are respected within the organisation for their own competencies. However, they live some stress by working hard, they also feel accomplishment.

Therefore, work becomes a process with continuous improvement for each individual, part of the working chain. The chain process is a success too.

Dynamism and enthusiasm is to be proactive about events and products. Dynamism is to act instead of waiting for an external event or from reacting to an event when it is already too late. Dynamism is to be on time with our own life. Dynamism is looking at events to understand what is good way for act and react in synergic energy.

Significant events may be seen as green, red or yellow lights, in a traffic road.

Events may be seen as a green light when everything goes well: private life, working life, relationship. We just have to continue the way it is and be happy.

Events may be seen as a yellow light when we have to listen to ourselves to know the answer. We have to take a break to explore new possibilities. We have to wait or to reduce speed to be sure of a new decision and his impact in our life. We have to look at our pace in life and at our direction to obtain our goals. Yellow light indicates we have to look at other around us and other in a perpendicular direction to prevent accidents.

Events may be seen as a red light when we go to fast or/and we must stop. We have to stop sometimes to save our life or other life. To stop is significant because it permit to see what is around us and has to be taken care to prevent an accident. Red light is also when we have to change our directions: example: when we are no longer required in a company, we will be required in another one.

Dynamism is at optimum level when the green light is there and when we fulfill our destiny at a beautiful pace for ourselves and for other people around us. We may accomplish our free spirit with discipline.

Subsection 2.2.7 - active listening and being really present

Active listening is to be absolutely present and to prepare ourselves to answer to what we are listening to.

We may compare active listening to a Baseball player who waits for the ball before returning it to the other player. He is really present to the event and he will be just on time to reply. That is an active playing, ready to reply.

Active listening, active playing goes with active obedience. Active obedience is to follow orders by using its own ways of seeing things and integrating orders in harmony with the directives.

Active listening could also be defined as being empathic, meaning that our spirit prevails our emotional state. This is stability state without confusion and emotional disturbance.

Being empathic is different than being sympathic or antipathic. sympathic is a positive emotion for the other person like being in love with somebody. Antipathic is a negative emotion against somebody such as hate, misunderstanding. Empathy is more neutrality, it is active listening for proactive behavior.

Active listening is being present to ourselves and to others on a secure path of communication.

Subsection 2.2.8 – internal security

Internal security is not to let negative energy invades our mind causing us fear. Internal security is not to deny fear but to do a black portrait of situation and to find a solution. It is to destroy fears about people, animals, insects and events. Internal security build our own Power and destroy our fear and all fears. Internal security is to feel well with ourselves.

When people just goes to sleep and they are happy, peaceful. Life is beautiful for them. That is internal security about private life and about working life. A good night sleep belongs to peaceful secure persons.

Internal security is a peaceful state that we authorize ourselves. Internal security is happiness.

It is also to protect ourselves in a way of not being injured when being attacked psychologically, emotionally and physically. To protect ourselves means to prevent attack and to correct and repair the situation after an attack. We must always return to a wellbeing, peace, comfort in our life and in other life involved with ours.

Internal security is possible when somebody is protected and protect himself from:

- Darkness
- weakness in different field of experiences,
- vulnerabilities to bring wealth, and spirit.

It takes empathic behaviors to be secure internally and externally with ourselves and others. Internal security depends also that we know that Order and Justice exist in life in an Absolute way and in a relative way in time.

Subsection 2.2.9 - understanding people

Understanding people is a really important disciplinary process. Understanding people means to receive information in an efficient way without deformation, deviation, alteration in the reception of information.

Understanding people means to receive the exact information verbal and none, to transmit an adequate answer verbal and none. The information sent may be without offensive and defensive behaviour. Understanding means being empathic to the other person

We have to validate that the other person feels that she has been understood. If so, it is beautiful. If not, we have to find a way to communicate in a more effective way that will permit understanding.

Understanding people means also to let individuals built their own way on acting in life. Being a coach, a model, a mentor, is good, but the freedom of choice is important to be preserved. This freedom of choice permits people to maximize their own reality and talents and to follow their destiny.

Understanding people means not to try to convince them but just to exchange different realities and point of views. This is real communication instead of power trip over other.

Control on our own energy is a really important asset in the communication process. Control on ourselves and control on our own energy is based on being peaceful in our spirit, mind, emotion state and body. Control on us and control over our own energy means to do so when others may or may not control their own behaviour.

Control on our energy means also to use our own pace to build our life. We built our life on short, middle and long term.

Knowing how to be here and now is also part of a good control on our energy. We know that the past is already in our memory and we will use it, if necessary. We know that the future will be constructed by each of our decisions that we make now. Each present moment is precious because it will never come back in the same way.

This is ways to be efficient in our life here and now and for the Future.

Control over our energy is also inside a particular space. This territory is our body.

Our body gives us information of what to be aware in our energy field. The body is an energetic vehicle that permits communication process. Two ways process of psychosomatic and somato psychic process has to been taken care if we want to be fully integrated.

The psychosomatic is what goes from our mind inside our body. Example: If we have interpersonal conflicts, we may suffer headaches.

The somato psychic are signals that goes from our body inside our mind. Example: If we have stomach problems, we must adjust our food ingestion to rebalance PH in our organism to have a more healthy life and to feel peaceful.

Subsection 2.2.11 - responsability

Each person has responsibility for himself and for other. Everyone has to assume consequences for his words and his actions. We have to look all around to see the product of our words and actions to verify if they have a good impact or not. We have the responsibility to do our best for us and other. We have to work with information that we have at the exact moment.

Everyone has to measure where his responsibilities begins and finishes and must let others take their own responsibilities. We must succeed to: (1) assume our words and our actions (2) verify at what level other people support their word and actions, because those people interact with our words and actions.

To support our own words means doing what we are supposed to do. Those words are involvement that will be done further. For example, if the parent said to a child that they will buy a pair of shoes. They have to buy this pair of shoes however, the child cannot force them to buy this pair of shoes. The same behaviour is important in Business. When a boss promises moneys or benefits to employees, he must fulfill his words whatever what it will cost him.

If somebody does not follow his own words, people will tell that this person is not responsible and they will not want to be partner with him or her anymore.

When people always miss their actions by being not able to do it or simply by forgetting it or by finding excuses about not accomplishing what they were supposed to do for other, other people may decide to stay far from those losers to not become losers too.

Responsibilities are important to obtain success. It permits clarity, fairness, efficiency, performance in an organisation. Responsibilities permit to measure our own performing behaviour with other performing behaviour. The working process is finally done and well done inside an organisation.

Being responsible means to sign our actions, our letters and to assume consequences for our behaviour.

Being responsible is: being there for ourselves and for others. However, life could be easy or in struggling. Being responsible means to do whatever is possible to solve problems. There is no weakness, no violence. This responsible person: (1) keep track on her own, (2) keep track on others, (3) help others when it is required, (4) help for herself.

Being responsible permits a better life with prosperity and wealth day by day. This state is recognised by ourselves, others, commercial partners, families, relatives.

Universal respect must be for us and all people on Earth. It is good will, good spirit, good words, good behaviors with minerals, plants, animals and human. Spirit is for us first, because we are a universe by ourselves. Universal respect always applies whatever it is microcosmic, macrocosmic or for the entire planet or the entire world because it is a basic law.

Respecting other people means to respect them as much as we respect ourselves. Universal respect means to take care of them as if they were us and not making them suffer because of us.

Universal respect means not to dominate with violence other people, not to abuse of our power, not to attack. It is an optimum relationship with other people. Respect permits maximum evolution:

1. Wellbeing : people are without offensive or defensive behaviour. They are just feeling well together with trust.
2. Stability: people are not always struggling and being destabilised by other when they continually fight. They exchange, share interest and the climate is sunny between them.
3. Order: The organisation is clear, exact with an auto regulation by each individual. People deal well together. There are discipline with harmony.

Respect permits a high level of communication between people. Respect is a basic for a humanitarian psychology. Respect appreciates beauty and harmony. The master piece of Jean-Pierre Neveu is : A new life. The author express himself with mystery and enchanting figures. Those women are in harmony with plants, trees, water. He paints to permit us to see beauty and harmony. He paints to share wealth that could be appreciated by sensitive people.

Section 2.3 - Insanity in Communication

Alienation in communication means to fight with other humans, to be in offensive or in a defensive way. We will work about alienation of communications by giving variables and how to act to correct those misfit variables.

Subsection 2.3.1 - isolation from other people
Subsection 2.3.2 - poor dialogue
Subsection 2.3.3 - interpretation of information
Subsection 2.3.4 - being under control
Subsection 2.3.5 - invasion of territory
Subsection 2.3.6 - passivity or inertia
Subsection 2.3.7 - lack of listening
Subsection 2.3.8 - internal insecurity
Subsection 2.3.9 - misunderstanding other
Subsection 2.3.10 - lack of control and attempt to control other
Subsection 2.3.11 - irresponsibility
Subsection 2.3.12 - no respect and false respect

Subsection 2.3.1 - isolation from other people

Isolation happens when somebody does not have a functional personal identity and he is not pursuing for his own achievement. It is no action and a looping speach within the person.

Isolation happens when somebody is alone with his limitations, stopped in personal development, and is without any new experiencing.

Those people thinks that life is from outside to inside instead of from the inside that shines to outside.

This false perception conducts people to search to be loved, to obtain power over other, to have a lot of money. Those people does not recognize their own reality and their own identity. They desire something that they could not find.

Those isolated people stayed isolated because more peaceful people does not want to be destructed, attacked by them too often.

Those people talk to themselves in a loop and they may become insane such as: schizophrénia, paranoïa, senility, break down, etc.

Subsection 2.3.2 - poor dialogue

Poor dialogue is without communication. Poor dialogue means to block other to taste us, our experiences, our values, our identitie. Poor communications means that we block other or other blocks themselves of real exchange, real feedback, real access to the other person soul.

Poor dialogue fights against communication and generate insane communication and no communication at all.

Those situations have as consequences a lot of distress for all parties whatever they look like.

Interpretation of information is different than having the exact information. It is a perception instead of reality. Some people uses it because it gives them more power with this type of information. They will use their interpretation and they allow themself to lie or to give bad information with error to other to keep a supposed edge that they want to maintain over people. They act under the table to fulfill their dark objectives.

Interpretation of information is a bad communication because there is no verification of the information. It is a way to keep power with information and to hurt other instead of communicating with them. It is a threat to the organisation, to others and to communication for individual short term benefit.

This person prefers to interpret information instead of exchange with the other person. This person disrespects other to win power over others.

In interpretation of information, communication is not clear, it is often a corruption of information. It is a way to reject a position without agreement from the other side. It is a one way street.

This sickness of communication has multiples consequences:

1. A stagnation in evolution process, evolution requires to be with other.

2. This person will stop his evolutionary process and will be alone without loving other and without real love that comes with generosity to other.

3. A stop in Growing process in the company, in family and with relatives.

Subsection 2.3.4 – being under control

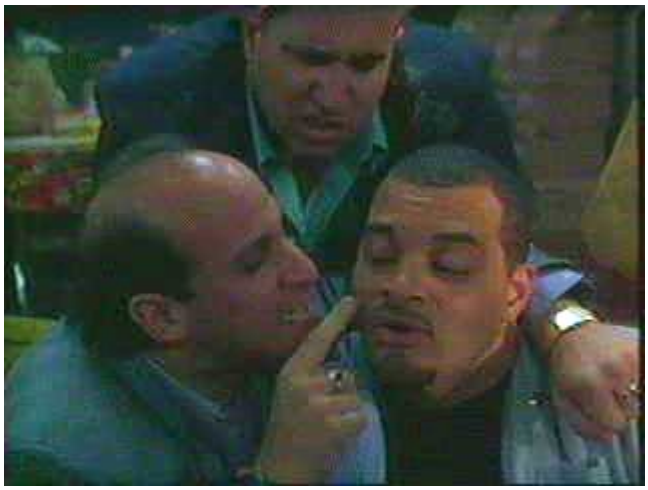

Figure 2.3.4: Being under control

Being under control instead of mutual exchange, is the phenomena of somebody who is controlled by somebody else than himself.

Being under control means not being his own master. This is being a slave to another mind, being invaded in his own territory by another mind.

What is obvious is that the person that is under control does not have the right to look to the other person action to see and oversee. The dominant feels his superiority over his victim or over the controlled person.

The problem is one way line. The superior takes decision over the inferior that could causes troubles to the inferior. The superior does not look to consequences to the others. He just looks for his own profit. What will it cost him to take care of the others? He just think for a maximum short term profit for himself.

The rough superior forces the other to be under his control. The inferior is under control. There is no real communication flow.

Invasion of territory is the predator taking power over territories that he is not supposed to take. He asks no permission, has no respect for people. He imposes his will over any other will to win whatever the cost of his action to others.Nobody has the right to invade another territory or another life form. People may be invited to visit the other territory not to invade with no respect, no agreement, by using violence. Somebody may try to be invited but may not force access on another property.

In invasion of territory, it is violence in this behaviour against the person who suffers the invasion.Invasion means no respect for other persons involved. Invasion could be done for personal power or to calm anxiety. In the two cases, it is insane.

Invasion means taking profits by making somebody suffers. The manager has to ask for getting in. If the other person says no, it has to be respected. The manager says that his judgment is better than others judgments and he forces his judgment to win whatever consequences on others.

There is confusion with I, us and you. By confusing those three words, information is mixed and it is not possible easily to see where there is a mistake, where improvement is needed. The dominator does not look to consequences of these bad information. He says I, when it is another person action. He says us, when he has not consulted the other person involved. He says you, when it is his own mistake.

Subsection 2.3.6 - passivity or inertia

Passivity and inertia shut down communication process. This stops the flow of communication.

Life is eternally in action. The pace of life must be respected not trying to be stopped or not followed. When somebody is passive, it occurs that other must find a way to follow their own destiny instead of stopping the pace of their life because of this person.

Inertia in action may be an aggressive behaviour against the person who is connected to the passive one. The flow of action will be lost. This may disrupt the life of the connected one. Inertia meaning no action is often aggression under the table against somebody or something. When water has no flow, corruption occurs. It is the same thing in action, stagnation is corrupting production flow.

Passivity meaning no action may be caused by fear. This person may refuse a new job, a new home, a new companionship because he fears unknown events. This is a loser situation and this person will not be permit to evolve at a perfect pace. By missing new opportunities, the life flow is stopped.

Passivity caused by fear is stopping the evolution process for a short term security by knowing past and present without wanting any change. Errors are short term profit such as lying to spouse for not having to express discomfort and distress. By that, a situation becomes worst in time but no efforts are done. Passivity and inertia by revenge or by fear are sad and bad because the life flow is not respected for this person and other around her.

Subsection 2.3.7 - lack of listening

Lack of listening may be related to: (1) ourselves, (2) other, (3) events, (4) objects.

Lack of listening has consequences by an inadequacy of answers to elements involved.

1-Lack of listening to ourselves has consequences: For example, too much time for work and not enough time for private life will cause psychological tension, sickness within a family and sickness. A person must listen to her personal need. A balanced life between working hours and family hours is always required.

2-Lack of listening to other has consequences: Isolation and lack of prosperity in different fields because reciprocity is basic in life.

3-Lack of listening to events have consequences: Signals from events will become Warning and after Accidents and Incidents will happens. Green and yellow lights are also to be followed. Green light gives energy boost to obtain success. Yellow lights need to be carefully interpreted and there is a need to look for new information. Red light obliges stopping or a real danger is there to happen.

4-Lack of listening to objects animated and none animated, animals, vegetals has consequences: This person will have a life without colors, beauty, life, luxury, wealth. It will be a deserted area without life.

Subsection 2.3.8 – internal insecurity

Figure2.3.8: Trembling by fear

Internal insecurity is feeling bad at the nervous system level, thinking level, emotions level, body level.

A lot of persons had bad programming experience meaning that they learned reversed psychology instead of Humanitarian psychology. Bad programme must be repaired by a healing process. The person will have to correct his interpretation of situations in good ways.

> When there is internal disturbance, the person must go up inside herself to look at the event in a neutral way different than an emotional way to find a solution. There is popular expression to help people doing so: Stay cool, man. It is OK, it is not so important, go take a walk, take a large breath, etc.
> When somebody does not eat well, sleep well, act well, relax well, his body may become really in bad shape and suffers diseases or sickness.

Internal insecurity must be replaced by internal security to obtain and to maintain a good life condition.

Subsection 2.3.9 – misunderstanding other

Misunderstanding begins by a misunderstanding within our own thinking about life. If we recognize that each person is powerful for herself, we recognize that we have to understand others the way they are.

Misunderstanding is to let bad thinking win in our head. Bad thinking is like insects that bites, more they are ferocious more they bite hardly. Bad thinking produces misunderstanding. Bad thinking such as: he is an idiot, I am stupid, I am going nowhere, nobody loves me, I want his power, I want his money, I want his spouse. He hates me, I must destroy him.

Those misunderstanding are really destructive in a communication process and misunderstanding causes people destruction. Life is greater than misunderstanding and revenge!

Subsection 2.3.10 - lack of control and attempt to control other

Figure 2.3.10: Lack of control

Lack of control and attempt to control others produces a desire to fight others instead of a desire of communications about our intentions and idea.

Everybody wants to integrate principles of life in his own way, in his own time frame. Nobody wants to be forced to think he is a loser dominated by a winner against his own will. If somebody wants to be helped, to be influenced, to be guided, he will ask for answers from somebody else.

Lack of control of himself push the dominator to try to force the others to act his own way whatever the other real way. This behaviour is always wrong because it does not respect the freedom in acting and thinking of others. Lack of control is always a mistake whatever it is for good or bad reasons. This does not allowed others to grow freely.

Communications are broken for the dominator presumes profit.

Temptations to control others are lack of real personal power because this person tries to control others instead of acting to become by himself powerful, more reliable, more efficient, more communicative. This applies however it is the one who attacks or the one who has been attacked first.

Irresponsibility means not to assume who we are, our words, our actions, our events in life.

Being irresponsible means not to look at consequences of our actions on other people, plants. Outsiders suffering from deviation with violent behaviors are irresponsible of consequences on others. It is different than good disciplinary life but in a marginal ways that helps society to develop.The irresponsible person looks to his own short term profit without consideration to medium, long term profit and consequences on him, others and the environment. The irresponsible person desires fun, money and make his desire become immediate reality whatever the consequences on others.

The irresponsible is not able to work with a time frame, he is impulsive for his profit. He will not built in harmony with other but he will hurt to obtain his profit in a short term period. He does not construct permanent alliance, he runs for his own power trip (short, medium, long term profit).

The irresponsible person will often wear a mask to obtain profit in a short term period. He will try to look good or bad instead of looking what he is or he is becoming: evil, dirty, insane. He does not accept his own words, attitude. He thinks that the mask will permit him not to assume consequences for his wrong behaviour. He could not by his own thinking evaluates his own intellect, willingness, potential, loving competencies. This person is captured by his illusion of liberty and pleasure. He could not become himself because of his own irresponsibility.

None respect, false respect and faked respect means not taking care of life around.

None respect is often domination over people. People takes power over people for their own interest whatever the cost for the other person. They think that if the other is not able to stop them doing it, they just have to be abuse. They think, I am the winner and they are loser. I want my own maximum profit. There is no communication, it is alienation of communication. This is a rejection of others.

False respect is the weak person showing some sort of respect to the dominator. The weak person seems to respect but it is not a real respect. It is a way to deal because he is afraid. He does not give real advise, real intention, real opinion, he just says what he thinks the other wants him to say. He lies to please, he lies to seduce. He lies to survive. There is no communication it is alienation of communication. This is fear of other that are winner.

Fake respect is the weak person showing some sort of respect as a mask for profit. The person seems to respect but it is not a real respect. It is a way to deal by being dishonest with other and themself. He does not give real advise, real intention, he just says what he thinks the other wants him to say. He lies to please, he lies to seduce. He lies to survive. It is a battle against other. Example: People destroy aquatic life by announcing that they want a better environment for tourism in their country. Destroying aquatic life will give short term profits such as more money with touristic business.

Chapter 3 - Human Rights

In chapter 3, we will look at the Universal declaration of Human Rights and how to make this document alive all around the world.

Survived in War is leaving in none agreement. This life is like a man without a Home, an under man whatever his status: (1) predator or (2) victim or (3) struggling to stay alive. Human are degraded as attacked human when they used their soul to fight during wars. Instead of being in harmony and Peace with others, this is disaster after disaster.

However, now most of the country works for Peace instead of War. It is a beginning of a new Order.

Section 3.1 - Universal Declaration of Human Rights
Section 3.2 - Protection of Territory
Section 3.3 - Alienation in Territory by Defensive and Offensive Mechanisms

Section 3.1 - Universal Declaration of Human Rights

December 10th 1948, general assembly of United Nations had proclaimed the Universal declaration of Human rights. In this book, we distribute the text in Appendix B and we assume that this is an ideal situation for people and nation worldwide on this planet.

In this book, we will look at personal liberty at Earth level instead of state, country level. We will study the systemic model of humanitarian psychology instead of state politics, country politics or international politics. We will look at human rights differently than some professional looks such as lawyer, priest, politicians, and other professionals that profit in their own professional view.

We will look to those Human rights as rights on Earth to communicate freely between people of the same country or different country. We will look at Human rights in a universal ways. Human rights give a decent life on this planet. This is now the time to upgrade the communication process.

In this book, we will explore Humanitarian psychology as a model to upgrade life on this planet. Humanitarian psychology permits each person to be better than she was instead of normalising all people at a median level. We will permit people to fulfill their greatness.

At this step, we may say that our systemic model using humanitarian psychology will help to understand our planetary reality and his difficulties to obtain and maintain peace, freedom of expression, liberty.

Laws for territories protection are laws that applies worldwide with a good evolutionary process. Those laws are more powerful than from actual laws that protect territories by imposition without consent of population. Those are War measures.

In our society, light goes with darkness. That is why territories must be protected. Most of the time, politicians install fences against invaders. Individual liberties are constraints for closed environment. Those politics has been more applied after September 11, 2001 when Terrorism attacks happens in New-York City destroying World Trade Center Towers. Some basic concepts must be explained to comprehend how to keep a peaceful society, without major planetary conflicts. Respect permits harmonisation between people and country.

Protection against potential attack meaning terrorism and war is always important everywhere. What are the basic concepts for peace and Liberty whatever where.

Subsection 3.2.11 - integrity in communication
Subsection 3.2.12 - i am ok, you are ok

Subsection 3.2.1 - the strength

The strength is the personal capacity to be a Sun who always shines. The Strength is to be ourselves always and everywhere with everybody. The strenght is to act and react as we say we will act.

The strength is to be real such as our development process which is also real. Life in strenght is a life with personal accomplishment different than a life that is a run for direct results. The two ways may be together obtained. But just trying to obtain results without accomplishment is not enough.

The strength is creativity, building reality, wealth. The strength needs consciousness. The strength is soft and none violent against others.

The strength is beyond the fear and without hate for human being. The strength is clarity in emotional, mental and physical states.

By the strength, maturity, human excellence, human territories are beautiful kingdoms that permits evolutionary process.

Subsection 3.2.2 - transparency

Poet's inspiration is a phenomena of a perfect information flow. Somebody that has this quality let other people access to exact information. This person really informs instead of no information at all or giving wrong information.

Transparency gives access to ourselves, others and groups of persons really easily. Transparency permits that pertinent information is available, others, groups, process, politics. Poet's inspiration gives a successful communication to improve process. It permits best results in the action process. The variable to be observed too, is to give an adapted information with the understanding level of receptor. For example, when somebody talk to a child, the information must be adapted to be well understood by this child. Transparency will adapt the information to the language of the other person meaning translating when this is appropriate for the receptor. Transparency is simplicity without vanity. It is being without corruption, manipulation. The exact information is transmitted. Transparency is without reflection. It is simple, without mask of any kind.

Transparency permits quality in the communication process. Somebody that is able to be transparent, may also be clear, well adapted, strong, with a clear mind, following his own clear path.

Subsection 3.2.3 - freedom of development

Freedom of development is to go as far as we may at different levels such as: (1) psychic, (2) psychological, (3) emotional state, (4) physical state, (5) material state, (6) relational state.

Freedom of development is also to permit and help other to obtain their own summit targets whatever their age, experience, assets.

Freedom of development is the freedom that stops when the freedom of the other begins. This is relative freedom of development and relative freedom. In this section, we will look as absolute freedom of development to upgrade concepts.

Absolute Freedom of development is respect of laws of life, such as love for human kind and respect for the environmental issues.

1. Psychic freedom is the right to explore other dimension of our own reality.
2. Psychological freedom is to express or not express remarks, attitudes, knowledge with other people. It is the freedom to grow in our own space and time frame with other.
3. Emotional freedom is to express our feeling, our vibration, our emotional state. This is the freedom to love, to feel tenderness to express different soul state to others, It is also the freedom to feel negative emotions (doubt, fear, hate) and to express them by staying respectful for others.
4. Physical freedom is to taste life with our body. It is to express life, to feel life, to perceive objects, sensations on our planet Earth.

5. Material freedom is to use objects, plants, animals with respect. It is to use financial power for our prosperity not our destruction.
6. Relational freedom is to meet, to talk with whom we want to when we want to, where we want to. It is the freedom to choose to be alone or to be with people. It is the right to choose or to let go people in our life. It is the power to say yes, no, maybe, later, depending what is our need and the relational need.

Now, we will talk about the phenomena of reciprocity in sharing communication.

Subsection 3.2.4 – reciprocity in communication

Reciprocity in communication goes with three different ingredients: Love, Brightness, Good Will. For example, when a woman gives her energy to a baby, the return will be baby's love and health in the future. That is reciprocity, however, it is not with the same component.

In a couple, reciprocity takes different aspects and different mixtures of ingredients. For example, man may give good will to work and woman express loving behaviour to all the family. That is reciprocity: Love and Good Will mixed with Brightness. Those two behaviors may be swapped but the principle is the same.

Reciprocity at work applies too. Working relationship must be an exchange between people to permit a Wealth of everybody on their own ways. Where there is reciprocity at work, synergetic exchanges are reliable and constants. Quality is always there. Products are 100% quality.

Subsection 3.2.5 - personal power

Personal power is to shine from inside to outside without waiting outside feedback to shine. Being powerful is acting instead or reacting from bad events. It is to be on time at our pace. It is being in harmony with others. Being powerful is like driving ourselves our car and going where we want to go and where we have to go, when we want to go. It is without fighting others. Being powerful is to be on time, on our own pace, on our place in interrelation with others. When her spirit need to be powerful, power is always there.

Somebody having real power is inside his own certainty, he does not try to convince others, she is functioning his way. He is powerful and generous to create for himself and others the best conditions of life. Personal power is always there for being used when it is a good timing. Personal power created beauty, greatness and dignity.

Real power is peaceful. Real power creates order and cleans disorder. This power may be used to create, develop beauty for different kingdoms: human, animal, mineral, vegetal.

Being powerful is to accomplish ourselves for a wellbeing of people, in our planet, our country, our family. From ourselves, it is a generation of good and excellent conditions of life created in harmony with environments.

Being powerful, is to see, to analyse, to follow our star, to be strong in adversity.

Being powerful means a wellbeing when life goes well and a wellbeing when life is really difficult. It is using adversity to grow, it is to find new ways of interacting with the same situations and with some new situations. It means not to fail and not to fail others. Failure must not be inside to outside. Failure causes by others from outside may happens but personal power is to continue our ways in those life tests.

When events are bad, we have to stay strong and to never give up on us. When the light is red or yellow, it is time to look and study events to avoid life accident. It is time for protecting ourselves with efficiency. It is time to look at new solving ways. It is time to think: I have done the best that I could with these information, I am OK. After a moment, life will return in expansion with a green light. Those periods are tests to be succeed. Those periods permit to burn doubt, anxiety, insecurity, fear. Those periods are part of our growing processes.

Subsection 3.2.6 - freedom of expression

Rights of expression is to use our mind, our spirit, our soul, our will, our loving capacities freely. This right is without oppression, without functional limitations, without being used by others. Right to be strong without being rough over others, the right to be kind without weakness for others.

This is the right to express 100% who we are with full integrity:

1. The right to refuse to be silent when oppression happens.
2. The right to express ourselves without oppression to others.
3. The right to express ourselves however some people does not want us to express our opinion.
4. The right to be silent, not to express.

The freedom of expression is the right to obtain strong results. This right is always there and may not be stopped by events, people, test on the road. After tests has been successful, life will be greater than it was before.

The freedom of expression is to express joy, evolution, arts. It must vanquish fears, culpability, insecurity, anxiety, doubt, fear to loose, to be fully powerful with integrity.

The freedom of expression is within message content. It may be express on time, whatever your duties, what are your competencies. You may ask reciprocity of communication by asking: What do you think about that?

What do you think about that? is a form that permit communication with others on a specific topic that needs to be discussed or presented or discarded.

We must always keep in mind that the most important person in life is ourselves:

1. Nobody can stop you from a humanitarian psychology.
2. Freedom of expression is a personal power that nobody can stop inside you.
3. We should not stop our own freedom of expression because we think somebody is more powerful than us.

When using freedom of expression, it could be helpful to inform by using: What do you think about that? instead of asking permission for your freedom of expression.

Subsection 3.2.7 - rebirth

Rebirth is always being able to be reanimate, to be fully empowered. Rebirth is to be at our best of performance spiritually, psychologically, emotionally and physically. Being at our best means being expressing well instantaneously.

Rebirth happens when the mind, the spirit, the soul are optimized with life. There is no routine. There is prosperity.

Rebirth is an upgrade, it is important sometimes in a life period to be upgraded. To renew ourselves is significant to have a greater life with a new testing field.

Rebirth happens when all tests have been succeed in a certain level, a new series of evolutionary tests are submitted to be achieved.

Rebirth permits actualisation of new possibilities, those are pleasant for the person however, they are challenging. On contrary, degradation is unpleasant because there is no light in manifestation, no accomplishment either.

Love and respect are important in a healthy communication to permit rebirth. They may also create a new life such as a child. This is a paradise for humanitarian communication. The rebirth will also permit evolutionary process, prosperity for the family.

Subsection 3.2.8 - personal security

Personal security is to be at ease with ourselves and others. This is to be competent in our working life and our private life. It is to be protected however we are or not aware of it.

Personal security means to differentiate between personal aspects such as:

-Beyond ourselves is our personal security in life, from our own powerful knowledge that is mostly non conscious.

-ourselves this is our planetary attributes in manifestation, this is our functional personal identification.

-below ourselves is our bad instinct, toxicomania, sickness of different kinds.

It is also knowing how to use profitably those three levels.

Personal security is to use all elements whatever they are judged good or bad by others for a better life for us. It is to give our own personal rules for our life improvement however, they may be in certain ways not the same than the regular rules for other individuals.

Personal security is a transpersonal attribute that permit the person to go in other cultural fields and adapts when staying herself and growing by herself.

Personal security is a transpersonal attribute that permit the person to be in alliance with others all around the world.

Personal security is to be sure that success will happened for us and for other around us. This success will be in working environment and private life.

Subsection 3.2.9 – working process

Working process is to act, write, work, and to receive something in return: money or other energetic compensations. This is working with a salary compensation. Working process permit life accomplishment. When somebody loves his work and do it well, this is well being.

Working process may be a creation, a work, a slaving behaviour. The difference between this four aspects is partly in the perception. This is why somebody must find a work that fits his own spirit discipline. Working process without receiving a salary is mostly done by women who stays Home to take care of children and take care of the residence. Those tasks are important for an interesting private life. Being a spouse, a mother, a companion are significant social roles.

Women that suffers in inequality with men when they are housekeeper has to obtain their rights in this field. Now, more women are returning to work after maternity leaves and they have to explore new ways to fulfill house keeping needs.

Women must be respected in working process however it is inside Home, inside a company, and in both places at the same time or in different times of their lives or teleworking at home for the company.

Subsection 3.2.10 - relational stability between man and woman

Two persons who loves each other may be in a relational stability. They may built a couple, a family, a Home.

Love is the strongest link between two persons. This is stronger than sexual desires, money desires for security.

Relational exchanges in a couple may be psychological, sentimental, financial and sexual. A couple must be strong on his vision about life, destiny, love, believed, affinities.

Two persons relationship may be an alliance, a contract, a friendship, an association of solidarity and any other forms that gives relational stability and comfort. Relational Stability depends on creativity, generosity, stability and stagnation is not an issue.

Relational stability implies that each person may leave the relation if it is necessary for his own evolutionary process. Freedom to stay or to leave in a couple, a family, a Home is essential.

Relational stability is a personal stability that two person agrees on and constructs together. Relational stability implies agreement, integrity and sharing with the spouse good communications.

Subsection 3.2.11 - integrity in communication

Figure 3.2.9: Integrity in communication

Integrity in communication is to transmit perfectly information. It is no omission to say or no giving falsified information. Integrity means to write stories and events by using the right timing, right sequences, right actors, real facts.

Integrity is being respectful for ourselves, others and respectful of the communication process between us and others.

Integrity in communication begins by personal integrity. Personal integrity is: to know ourselves, to know what we are capable of, to know our evolution process. Personal integrity is to belong to ourselves, to know how much we are important for ourselves.

Integrity is to be in harmony with Life. It is being in harmony with Life inside ourselves. Integrity in communication is to be harmonized with others, without losing ourselves and without hurting others. Integrity is to permit communication from one person to the other and so on.

Integrity is to live in society without mask, without irresponsibility. Integrity is to fulfill our words. Integrity is to be honest.

Integrity in communication is to perform beautiful communication, beautiful agreement, beautiful kingdoms.

Subsection 3.2.12 - i am ok, you are ok

Figure 3.2.10: I am OK and you are OK

I am OK, you are OK is to be in accordance with people. Each person has his destiny to follow. We have to follow our way and let others followed their own way too.

Life in accordance is freedom without slaving conditions on both sides. It is a contract with responsibility to be ourselves, to accomplish our words. Agreement is about what to be, what to do, what to know and how to succeed all process for a good life.

Life in accordance is a living contract and a contract to build short, medium, long terms conditions. Agreement permits to accomplish dreams with a day by day effort, a day to day discipline.

Life in accordance is to shake hand, to give hands, to help and to share in different ways. Two or more free persons create together better life in freedom for everybody.

Life is not being in offensive or defensive ways. It is to protect ourselves and other by creating protected environment. War is restriction, compression, oppression, under pressure conditions. Peace is expression, harmony and expansion.

It is strength to be in accordance instead of having a dominator who tries to eat a weak victim or being a victim that will be destroy by the dominator. It is I am O.K. and you are O.K..

Section 3.3 - Alienation in Territory by Defensive and Offensive Mechanisms

Figure3.3: Station

Alienation in a territory is degradation, losing natural order. It is an under level of life. People suffers and reacts to experience without their agreement and without individual progress. People have been stolen what they possess intellectually, psychologically, emotionally, physically, financially. People are in reclusion from other and themselves.

In those conditions of isolation, defensive and offensive mechanism appears:

1. To prevent an offensive from a presume adversary, they become rough and tough. They take offensive behaviors.
2. Defensive mechanism is a psychological mechanism used to become a servant, a slave, somebody without significance. People are afraid of the violent dominator. People suffer weakness and are possessed by their own weakness.

Alienation in territory is a jungle where the dominator try to eat the weak victim. The predator tries to capture his victim and to possess it before eating the victim.

Those jungle laws try to override civilized society by defying, by lying, by masking the truth, by gambling, by buying people. Violence is the basic concept to maintain their power over people. Real Love does not exist, hate and violence are laws to destruct people and possess them.

How to obtain freedom when alienation is present? It is a process of discovering by first identify variables of alienation in a territory. After that, it is to begin a creative action to change situations.

Alienation of communications belongs from Rules of oppression that are:

Subsection 3.3.1 - violence, fear and hate
Subsection 3.3.2 - mask
Subsection 3.3.3 - dependancy and slavery
Subsection 3.3.4 - non reciprocity in a profit situation
Subsection 3.3.5 - dictatorship and terrorism
Subsection 3.3.6 - assessment of silence
Subsection 3.3.7 - degradation
Subsection 3.3.8 - false security and personal insecurity
Subsection 3.3.9 - making money as objective instead of working
Subsection 3.3.10 - sexual pleasure against significant relationship
Subsection 3.3.11 - illusions slaving or mastering
Subsection 3.3.12 - war and conflict

Subsection 3.3.1 - violence, fear and hate

Violence is the basis of wrong power, false power. By this way, violent guy takes power over others and thinks he obtained some big powers. They have some destructives powers that cause fear among people without inner force. Hate between people begins. Violence is when a president, a master, a manager, uses his position to force people to do what he wants, in his own way whatever what is good or efficient.

Those violent people use weakness in their victims:

1. They cause fear to have more control over their victims
2. They cause punishment if somebody tries to be free from their violence.
3. They cause doubt on their victims to dominate and control their spirit

The fear of others and consequences maintains people in their weakness. Violence cycle will come back. The violent one will think he has good reason to control, blame, punish. Hate is there.

Hate from the violent person at a weak victim has four phases:

1. Violent person thinks the other person is an object that he possess for his own power trip.
2. Violent person becomes frustrated and searches a way to feel less frustrated.
3. Violent person loses their mind and discharges their hate and violence on their victim.
4. After this fact, the violent person is quieter than he was before attacking, he is less stressed and he will not attack since he will return in an angry state. The victim will suffer less aggression for a short period of time.

Subsection 3.3.2 - mask

Mask is the predators and victims on offensive and defensive behaviours.

Predator tries to look less angry, less monster. Victims tries to look less afraid, less abused than they are.

Predator and victims will try to look not guilty by expression such as:

Predator: -I have done my best, I have done anything wrong, I take care of her or of him.

Victims:-I have done nothing wrong at all, I am not doing anything without permission and I will not do anything to upset him in the future.

Mask is the tool of illusions that permit hells and jungle to look less visible for a lot of people.

When somebody wears a mask, he is not capable to taste his real strength, his real creativity, his reality. He is damned to play game that put him in reclusion from himself and others. He cannot used his freedom of expression. He is forced to contaminate his word by what he thinks people wants him to say and what he thinks he must say because of wearing his mask.

Wearing a mask could be remarked by others. When somebody is not expressing himself with transparency, this is somebody that is contaminated and wearing a mask. This person is not real, not a true person. Be careful not to trust, just be careful!

Subsection 3.3.3 - dependancy and slavery

Dependency and slavery are at different level such as: (1) spiritual (below ourselves), (2) psychological (consciousness), (3) Emotional (feeling), (4) physical (body), (5) budget (money).

1. Spiritual dependency and slavery is to restraint our person to be less creative, less beautiful, less liberty. It is to be subjugated, invaded, diminish, and degraded by a demon inside ourselves or outside ourselves.

2. Psychological dependency and slavery is to lose our way of thinking to be subjugated by a way that destroy part of our reality. Those toxicomania affects the spirit, make the spirit loose his power. The person compensates, loses and deteriorates in his life. Those toxicomania are: alcool, drugs, food boolimia or anorexia, mad sexuality, money greedness, ego trip, power at any price.

3. Sentimental dependency and slavery is to lose our mind for emotional disturbance. For example, to be dependant of a married man with another woman and to want just him whatever the consequences (isolation, sorrows). Sentimental dependency may be with positive or negative emotions. Positive emotions may be excitement. Wrong feelings are fear, anxiety, depression.

    a. When it is a positive emotion, the person will try to go too fast and risk accident
    b. When it is a negative emotion, the person will try to go as slow as she can and loose her own pace.
    c. In the two case, this person loose pace in life and is in involution.

4. Physical dependency and slavery is a material condition which have priority over other variables. Freedom in action is stopped by a physical obstacle such as no car, no money, no time, no energy, no health, no friend. Any physical impotencies may be used to stop a sanitary action.

5. Financial dependency and slavery is that money is more important than anything else in life.

    a. A person always runs for money.
    b. A person always stops because of money.
    c. Here, the pace of life is broken by financial dependency and slavery

In financial slaving, Money causes bankruptcy, stealing of money. The person is corrupted by money, money is the master. In those cases, money is not used for personal growth but for a personal declined.

Subsection 3.3.4 – non reciprocity in a profit situation

When there is no reciprocity, this is a challenge to win against other

a. The predator who wants to eat, to abuse, to use is violent against his victim.
b. The victim is low energy or has been captured, and is not able to protect himself from the aggression.
c. The predator does not have a real strength, he is violent, rough and without tenderness.

In reciprocity of exchange, there is possibility to be in paradise because of the peaceful attitude between people. There is reliability in the process. Reliability is more important than trust or distrust because it is a real process.

a. when there is Trust, positive behavior follows from each person involved but trust could be abused by one of the persons involved.

b. when there is distrust, negative behavior follows and each person runs for his own benefit but it does not give peace, happiness.

Reciprocity with reliability in exchanges is reals behaviors that will not failed easily. Contract and consent will be fairs.

Dictatorship is power over people against their will. Dictatorship may be military, organisational and politic. In dictatorship, there is no democracy. Dictatorship takes control with violence, domination, complicity. Dictatorship may become terrorism meaning violence against people, country. Terrorism tries to override government by destruction and fear.

To stop dictatorship and terrorism, people must become strong and really well protected. United Nations Organisation has a humanitarian function when dictatorship and terrorism are implied. Each nation and each human may also their own power to protect their territory from aggression, violence, terrorism where ever it comes from.

Look at the September 11th, 2001 events in New York and how well United Stated decided to protect their territories. It is a great example of what to do and how to do it when there is terrorism attack.

Each nation has to protect their citizens. Leaders has responsibility to use power in a good way instead of using power for dictatorship. For example, in 2009, President Obama, United states obtains a Nobel Price for Peace.

Terrorism to destroy another country is totally dictatorial. No citizen will never agree to be killed, tortured, destroy by a dictator.

Each person has also to protect his life against dictatorship and terrorism. Each person is responsible for quality of life.

Each person has responsibilities to protect their own from those two destructive issues: dictatorship and Terrorism. Each person has to do their best with the information they have all the time.

Subsection 3.3.6 - assessment of silence

Right for freedom of expressions could never be alienated by assessment of Silence. Those people are under living imposed by a domination not to express themselves.

People whom do not see, speak, or listen are low life. By their behavior, it gives profit to the predator. The predator is able to act as he wants without scrupulous idea. He knows that is in power over others by being harsh or making people frightened of him. The predator does not want to be seen and not been incriminated for his own behavior. The predator does not want that the real information flows to keep power over information. The predator does not want to be heard when he destroys others. Those three person does not express themselves because they are submit externally by the predator or they are controlled internally by their own fears of bad consequences.

Those behaviours are degradation of humanitarian possibilities. A free man has no dignity behaving with those degraded behaviors. A free man is not a slave, a servant of another man or a system. Those behaviors are also degradation of communication process.

Degradation in a territory is observed when misery, deprivation are present inside individual, collective or environmental resource.

Personal degradation may be: when a person is invalidated by events or by herself. The handicap may be mental, emotional, physical and financial. It may be perceived by her or/and by others.

Collective degradation may be: Degradation is forced by outsiders but it is suffered by people inside a group. Degradation may be inside when people does not generate enough for developing purposes.

Environmental degradation may be: Environment does not give sufficient resource to permit prosperity. The under development may affect primary needs such as: food, shelter, clothes; secondary needs such as car, bicycle or third type such as: reading books, speaking in a phone, listening music, news, looking at TV or surfing the Internet.

A decent life is no more possible when there is degradation. Degradation affects all aspects of life and causes deprivation.

Degradation must be fight with personal power to be eliminated as fast as possible. By being at our own pace, on our own time, our own space with harmony with others that are also in their own pace, timing and space.

Degradation may be cause also by a dominator using people just for his own satisfaction such as: buying, leasing people for consuming purpose, stealing, fighting, etc. The dominator degradation is suffered by him and his victims. The two of them are lost with this appetite for power over others, there is no evolution of mutual respect between people.

Subsection 3.3.8 - false security and personal insecurity

False security and personal insecurity is taking power over others instead of being in his own personal security. Personal insecurity is to stay afraid instead of trying to destroy insecurity by using good will.

False security is (a compensation, an offensive behavior) that does not take care of people. False security is built as a conviction that attacking others, taking power over them and convincing them to slave themselves is a winning situation. False security is also compensation by taking power over others instead of working hard to empower.

Personal insecurity is doubt of ourselves that gives dominator power over us. This is not using our intelligence, good will and capacity to share to become secure and better inside. Personal insecurity is doubt that the result of good action will bring nice events that will permit to continue an evolutionary process.

Personal insecurity is to be low life (in a defensive and in a dependant behavior). Instead of being transparent, the person fakes to care about others when it is her fear and distress that govern her.

False security and personal insecurity that are in opposition but are both bandages about sickness to be treated and cured instead of sickness to be hidden by those bandages. Messages have no precision, they are masked. Communication must be renew in those cases.

Subsection 3.3.9 – making money as objective instead of working

Money is a way to do transaction between society, people, country of services and goods. But for some people, money is a result to obtain whatever the way they take to obtain it.

Making money whatever the way is done without respect for ourselves and others is detrimental to this person, this society and other person. A person has no functional personal identity, when she is used as a function in the organisation that just want to make money using her. The president whom just wants to make money in Business instead of making reasonable profit is not O.K..

The master mind of black money making has no real identity. He is masked to fulfill his avidity. He does not want to be recognized or identified for his action in case of being pursued. He just wants to be empowered by the money.

Corruption to make money is a phenomena on our planet. This phenomena is hidden and people must keep this fact silent and they think they will not suffer consequences for their acts. Making money whatever the price it cost to others is losing integrity in thinking, in speaking, in business transaction.

Corruption about making money is social phenomena that is hidden. There is silence to protect from short term consequences this black master mind of money making.

Now in Canada, we have a law: Bill C-25, An Act to amend the Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act. This law had changed Banks practices as an effort to stop corruption.

In the corruption process, the person sells her soul for money. She obeys dark forces instead of her consciousness. Some people has a price to be without integrity, without autonomous thinking and acting. However, rich or poor people may be Money corrupted. The rich has never enough. The poor desires more and he is afraid of not having enough too.

Corruption by sexual desire also exist whatever it is the one who desire or the one that is the money receiver. Those sexual corruption are often linked with making money at any price to fulfill all deviating behaviors.

Sexual pleasure by conquest of the other person is antagonism of relationship stability. There is no reciprocity in exchange. One puts the other one in a jail for his own profit when he feels for it. This is an unreal loving exchange.

Loving passions where one of the partner tries to possess the other person is not a real relationship either. There are four phases in violent behavior:

1. Thinking the other person is sexual object of desires,
2. Being possessed by emotional disturbance of love and hate passions,
3. Being violent with the other person by being jealous, obsessive, possessive desires,
4. Repent for violent behaviours however the person thinks she wants and loves the other.

Domination may exist in love and friendship. Passions may break a lot of relationship. The four phases of violence may appear also in friendships, in parenthood, and is really destructive for people.

Domination for sexual desires or for instinctual emotions contains:

1. Seduction instead of communication,
2. Fascination instead of recognition,
3. Magnetisation instead of charming and sharing.

Sexual desires without real love destroys relationships, creates illusions, isolation. There is instability in these relationships.

Subsection 3.3.11 - illusions slaving or mastering

Illusions slaving and mastering is an antagonism of integrity in communication. Illusions are not reality. They are untruthfulness.

The untruthfulness is to think that life is from the external ways to the internal reality. This illusion make people trying to obtain power over others to develop vanity and to think they are superior to others. Also, people becomes too humble because they compare themselves to others that have more power over others. The humble accepts to become slaves of people they think are superiors, they does not free themselves of those monsters.

A major illusion is to let fear dominate ourselves: (1) fear of what the others will think of us, (2) fear to seem like a good or bad person, (3) fear to be strong, pretty, (4) fear of being rejected for his own identity, (5) fear to lose a job.

A person has to know that she is her own sunshine and that she has her own power. Nobody has the right to use a sunshine power if she does not agree.

Testing with others our impressions is healthy and may help to prevent from being manipulated by illusionists.

When we interpret others and their thinking, it is a psychological intrusion in the other life. It is violent against the one that is interpreted.

War is there when people interpret others and do intrusion and invasion. War must not be tolerated with passivity. We must act to try to live in good climate.

If the illusionist wants to continue to conquest, he will have to become more diplomatic, more educated. He will be forced to look more O.K. for not being exposed in his false behavior.

Subsection 3.3.12 - war and conflict

War is being in psychological pattern of offensive and defensive behaviors. Those pattern nourish themselves by hate for man or at least no respect and a willingness to use the other for his own selfish profit. Those patterns are mostly in the dark side of survival.

Psychological mechanisms are to challenge the adversary that they are more powerful, more dangerous. They want to win by using whatever strategies are needed.

Defensive behaviour are not trusting the other, to jail ourselves or other, to wear a mask to look different externally than internally (not being recognize). Example: to smile when you need to cry. This is the beginning of paranoia.

Offensive behaviour are not trusting the other, to attack the other, to win the war. It is to attack the other to make him react and suffer in a timing when he is not prepared. It is to subjugate the other. This is the beginning of criminality.

War may be on the field, on water, underwater, tools of communications. War may be local, national, worldwide or in organisations.

War motivations are money, sexual power, power over people. Being in conflict and being in war by power appetite is sickness, sadness, madness.

Now, we (Québec, Canada) are in peace. However, terrorism attacks happens in New York City, United States, September 11, 2001. United Stated works hard to give security to his people since then. Organizations work really hard to stop terrorism and insure security.

Chapter 4 - Peace Accords

Figure4: Peace Banners

We will now explore how to maintain Peace, how to preserve Peace, how to improve conditions for Order and Peace on Earth by our individual actions and our collective action in communications.

Peace agreement means not being in war and building paradise of light. Personal and collective evolution are objectives to be fulfill. People will communicate using Internet, Intranet. Communication will be efficient. Users will be happy with their connections as much then architects will be happy to always give better networks.

They will have peace and no perturbations:

- in telepathic, verbal, visual, auditive communications,
- in non-verbal, written, impressed, electronic communications
- in their telecommunication such as phone, fax, e-mail, chat, Television, Radio at Home and at the office.

Freedom in communication and telecommunication will be kingdom. Those kingdoms will be protected against Hacker, dictators, warlocks.

Telecommunication systems will be able to protect themself and must permit:

1. Peace and security for people all around the world
2. Prosperity, environmental resources of goods and services for everyone on his own way
3. Economic and social prosperity for everyone on this planet
4. Personal evolutionary process for everyone

Those new architectural technologies are in harmony with a humanitarian psychology and will not permit psychology of power over people to win.

Those new architectural technologies will be important in Global Market expansion. They will permit commercial agreement worldwide.

Commercial agreement will be permit around the World.

We will begin by explaining communication system for peace with a humanitarian psychology to see in a more fulfill way future issues.

Section 4.1 - Communication System for Peace
Section 4.2 - A Center for Personalized Communication
Section 4.3 - Alienation in Communication by Power Imposition

Section 4.1 - Communication System for Peace

Communication systems for peace are telecommunication systems. Telecommunication systems make the link for efficient center of individual communication. Communication systems permits integrity and individuality for communicators.

New telecommunication systems operates with integrity. They are powerful and they protect from invasion:

- by hacking, by phishing, by stealing
- by infraction inside the big data ,
- by forcing entry in the Intranet of the Personalized Center of Communication
- by controlling by distance without agreement by the owner.

Those telecommunication systems are part of a center of individual communication with their adequate telecommunication network architectures.

By those telecommunication network architectures, individuals are empowered by using their personalized center of communication and are free from dark control. They use services providers and stay autonomous and free.

Section 4.2 - A Center for Personalized Communication

Center for Personal Communication is where the user is with his computer, his software. This person is acting and interacting freely with other person on other individual center of communication.

Those individual centers of communication will use different set up such as:

- different operational systems and different programming languages,
- different servor, different network:: Facebook, Twitter,
- different operational computer systems such as HP, IBM, Apple,
- USB keys,
- Scanners,
- printers,
- Softwares and apps.

Those systems will be securised, however people will notice or not about this fact.

Systems set up will protect people in their communication territory with protocols and principles of humanitarian psychology.

Freedom in expression with telecommunications systems will be respected by systems architects.

Freedom of expression is also guarded by the user of center of personal communication by personalisation of their computer environment. They always use their username and their own password that they will not give to other users.

Center of personal communication has his own fee to an Internet provider, his own phone number, e-mail address, and his DNS (domain name server).

Center for Personalized Communication is where the user is integrating a communication process that is in harmony with a humanitarian psychology. It is the basic of those telecommunications systems.

Subsection 4.2.1 - omnipresence
Subsection 4.2.2 - freedom of expression
Subsection 4.2.3 - universal access
Subsection 4.2.4 - reciprocity in communication
Subsection 4.2.5 - personal power instead of power over people
Subsection 4.2.6 - autonomy in communication
Subsection 4.2.7 - optimum quality of personalized center of communication
Subsection 4.2.8 - permanence and stability in personalized center of communication
Subsection 4.2.9 - reasonable price
Subsection 4.2.10 - consistency in personalized center of communication
Subsection 4.2.11 - integrity in communication
Subsection 4.2.12 - universalisation

Subsection 4.2.1 - omnipresence

Omnipresence of individual center of communication is the phenomena of synergetic exchange: (1) users, (2) network administrator, (3) host of telecommunication system, (4) Transmitter (5) Network architect.

Omnipresence is using systems when we want and need it.

People are autonomous, available to communicate. Everybody works together but are in their own individuality, at their own pace.

People are autonomous and generous in: (1) creativity, (2) building, (3) production, (4) maintenance, (5) commercialisation, (6) development, (7) wealth. Together, we (people) act using a humanitarian psychology.

Identification and password are significant in individual center of communication. These are the equivalent of signing a contract, signing an agreement. Information goes from one person to another (contain). The container is the Telecommunication network.

Freedom of expression is on chatting, newsgroup, email people exchange for the pleasure and for working purpose. There are groups that help others, it could be professional, scientist, social activities. Freedom of expression is with confidentiality in the exchange in private and commercial life. Most of the time, there is identification and password that are required to obtain information.

Those specifications for confidentiality in communication are the responsibility of architect and administrator of Network. Confidentiality is also part of the communication process: sending good information to the good person.

This freedom of expression with identification and password is important to empower Internet user and Intranet user. The freedom of expression requires being able to find easily information. Research on Internet with an efficient firewall help people to express a more brilliant point of view on a lot of subjects.

There is also social Media such as Facebook, and others where people may exchange pictures, phone. Freedom of expression is a Universal rights that is easier to fulfill since Internet network exist on Planet Earth.

Subsection 4.2.3 - universal access

Universal access is a specification for individual center of communication. The user is able to communicate without restrictions:

1. all the time,
2. worldwide,
3. from sender to receiver and vice versa.

This is possible because protocols exist such as: TCP/IP and network technologies. Universal Access is for everybody that has Internet access in his own center of communication.

It is also convenient that this universal access is there because it may permit wealth on Earth by facilitating personal and commercial exchange.

Subsection 4.2.4 - reciprocity in communication

Reciprocity in communication is the phenomena that personal center of communication permits the information to travel from:

1. Sender to receiver
2. Receiver to sender or forward to others
3. The communication process flows by using functionality of those communication applications.

Reciprocity in communication is soft, polite, ethical.

Reciprocity in communication requires an interface instead of a face to face. There are no domination and no submission, there are no slaving behaviors. This is two users whom interact and act together generously. Humanitarian psychology rules are followed. This is organised, and done in an efficient way.

Those networks are efficient to permit information to be transmitted with a High Quality Level. This transmission is always there whatever climates, politics, economics conditions, time of the day and places.

Subsection 4.2.5 - personal power instead of power over people

Personal power in individual center of communication means to be able instantly to use Telecommunication interface, to be able to receive and to send communications. Quality of Telecommunication interface is fundamental.

Personal power will be creativity to enhance life. This personal power is by ourself, for ourself and others instead of being just for immediate benefits against others.

Personal power will be to protect our telecommunication territory from invaders. This personal power will be like a fortress against attackers.

Personal power will be the individual shining power of telecommunication system trading with other shining power.

- shining power will be because of his own particular creativity
- shining power will be that his particular creativity will have his own signature and functional identity

Telecommunications systems will facilitate communications. Alliance between individuals sharing their own Power will be facilitated.

Personal Power will be shared by a lot of personal power users that will recognized others like them. They will be able to exchange opinions, scientific topics. They will collectively become more powerful on their own. They will also grow in their own personal power by enhancing it with others points of views.

This is absolutely different than a group without identity that obey a master whatever the master is asking for.

Personal power in individual center of communication had created, creates and will create communication products such as:

- letters, contracts, e-mail ,
- Production applications,
- exchanges by chatting, scanning, searching for information on different subjects ,
- Publishing Magazine, books, picture,
- Dowload of music, film, series, pictures, and documents
- Digitalization of pictures and artist products
- Message adaptation by translation, style change, grammatical styles.

Those personal powers are big and really important as an evolutionary process worldwide.

Subsection 4.2.6 – autonomy in communication

Figure 4.2.6: Autonomy in communication

Autonomy in communication by the individual center of communication is:

1. Creativity in performing with suite such as Office
2. Detection, prevention and correction on virus, worm contamination.
3. Detection of weakness in computer and system configurations.
4. Constant Availability of services for using purposes.
5. Creation, maintenance, update of systems when required to facilitate autonomy in communication.
6. More power, more fastness, more efficiency, more diversity, more users, and so…of individual center of communication.

Subsection 4.2.7 - optimum quality of personalized center of communication

Optimum quality of individual center of communication is :

1. Optimisation of human communications for man, woman and kids
2. Better Business exchanges and better sharing of information
3. Benefits for organisations and companies
4. Polite communications worldwide
5. Optimisation of specialised communications
6. Optimisation of Communications

Optimum quality of individual center of communication is in:

1. Instantly communication in different languages, in different country with different systems
2. Clear emission, transmission, and reception with different tools
3. High standard of Performance for architects, artists, writers, editors.

Optimum quality of individual center of communication is a caution of freedom of expression of users. Optimum quality means not to accept limitations. Optimum Quality means to invent a way to go faster, further, with more capacities, more specifications. Success for individual center of communication is obtained by this particular center. Success of network is obtained by quality of creativity.

Subsection 4.2.8 – permanence and stability in personalized center of communication

Figure 4.2.8: permanence and stability

Permanence and stability in individual center of communication is the Power of the user, system, applications , telecommunication network that contains the information Those elements must be in harmony with Humanitarian psychology. Those strong center must protect themselves with a firewall from invasion and destruction by hackers, dominators.

Permanence and stability in individual center of communication must win over force that want to control, dominate, destroy and possess those power. People must be cautious not to lose what they are empowered by in communication services. Permanence and stability must be guarded because it is always under attacks by dark forces.

Permanence must preveal for Communication process to be maintained. Permanence must be maintain and protect however there is a war, terrorism or other dark forces trying to take control.

Subsection 4.2.9 - reasonable price

Financial access is important for the acquisition and the maintenance of individual center of communication. The user's cost must be reasonable.

Financial access is essential for the systems' expansion. This access must be permit for individual center of communication for one person and for individual center of communication for as much as 1000 persons. Each user must be permit to pay what he need to use instead of paying for functions that he is not able to share and use.

Prices must respect each users and his own need. Here, the level of commodities does not have to be established just for more profits by giving almost to everyone the same services. Each user must be able to maximise his used by having packages that feeds his specific need. Quality-price report must be reasonable and financial vampire must be stop. No monopolistic market must be permit. Competition is sane because it challenges pricing.

Financial access is a caution for short, medium, long terms prosperity. Correct price permits that more and more individual center of communication will be operating. By this fact, communications qualities will improve for a better society.Financial access must be for Internet use, Intranet use, icloud, electronics components use, software, hardware, computers, servers and so on...

Subsection 4.2.10 – consistency in personalized center of communication

Consistency in individual center of communication is the phenomena of having access of a quantity of exchange with a quality of Telecommunication Network.

Consistency in Communication flow is insured by good network systems and their components.

Consistency may be maintain in Telecommunication Network with three phases in the certification process:

- Insurance about weakness elements that they will be replaced and upgraded on time
- Insurance of a continuous maintenance in the Network. Network must always be taken care not to become without efficiency.
- Insurance of a process of research and development in the telecommunication Network to permit evolution.

Evolution may be by the users and his equipment and evolution may be by the Telecommunication Network. Those two aspects are harmonisation and sharing inventions. Individual center of communication was, is and will be interlinked with Network systems of communication.

Subsection 4.2.11 - integrity in communication

Integrity in communication in an individual center of communication is the phenomena of:

1. Past tense, present tense and future tense must be harmonized. In the past, individual centers of communication were created. Now, they are maintained and upgraded. In the future, they will be developed with the best integrity process possible.
2. Integrity is to be efficient when it is working at home, at the office and everywhere, people need those telecommunication systems to operate for their personal and commercial uses.

Integrity is:

1. Confidentiality of information. Information may be technic, commercial or about behaviors in private or commercial life
2. Keeping intact data in transmission process. Equipment must be maintained and upgraded to permit quality of transmission .

Integrity must also be in contract and agreement with providers and between providers as well than contracts and agreement with customers. Integrity goes with honesty, and this part will be fulfilled by all systems network and all individual centers of communication.

Integrity is also a parameter really significant in Humanitarian psychology of wellbeing. Integrity is a royalty.

Subsection 4.2.12 - universalisation

Universalisation of individual center of communication is a conviviality phenomena. There is polyvalence of equipment on those centers. Those equipment are in synergy because of network facilities.

Universalisation in Internet protocols protects from power trip of control on systems. Universalisation is a resistance not to be controlled by a Master Mind unit. Universalisation means keeping individuality all around the world for each center of communication.

Universalisation is a phenomena where individual center of communication may work at his own pace, his own power, without interferences Universalisation is unicity of each individual center of communication. Universalisation means that exchanges was, is and will be at all levels of complexity, diversity, transcultural diversity. Those exchanges will not be restrain.

Universalisation was, is and will be a light spark from one individual center of communication to others without limitations and restrictions and vice versa. Universalisation is a Humanitarian psychology in development.

Section 4.3 - Alienation in Communication by Artificial Intelligence Power

Figure4.3: Power over man of artificial intelligence

The five AI giants—Google, Microsoft, Amazon, Facebook (Meta), Anthropic, Open AI, xAI, and Apple—are at the forefront of transforming how businesses operate through AI technologies. By understanding their contributions and capabilities, organizations can make informed decisions about integrating or not AI into their strategies.

Alienation in communication by power imposition is what center of control of information do:

Controlling information and using information for his own profit whatever what happens on others, that is what a center of control does for their power trip.

This phenomena has consequences: slaves, robots, human without individuality. People does not use creativity, autonomous will, brightness, love. This is like a jungle where the ferocious animals wins over low life victims. Those networks are inside empires, governments, enterprises, communities, corporations and international contracts.

Subsection 4.3.11 - irresponsability versus consequences on users
Subsection 4.3.12 - control whatever the price

Subsection 4.3.1 - control and violence

Center of control use violence to obtain results. The violence may be by absence meaning not being present when there is a need or by being directly violent. Control manager gives obligations to inferiors to obey or they will be blamed, punished, denied, forgotten by other inferiors or by the manager.

President and Chief stay without being accessible to be less understood by the employees. The chief must be obeyed or punishment may happened when it pleased him. Violence may be in a family, a community, association, planetary or global. The weak let the dominator wins over them.Victims stays alone, isolated. Victims are without functional personal identity. This is encouraged by the system to sustain fascination, admiration for the chief, supreme dominator.

Victims loses their personal functional identity to be replaced by a no identity, they cannot become powerful, They are too much sucked. Victims becomes more dependants, more afraid, more tired, more oppressed. If they stay empowered, they are rejected, fired, ceased employment.

Center of control are not present for the victims. They just used them. Victims and chief have compensation behaviours that gives false security. For a minimum of security they stop their development. This violence is center of control ways to manage. It is a power trip over others

Subsection 4.3.2 – restrictions and conditions

Figure 4.3.2: Restrictions and conditions

Center of control has a psychological principle of power that is:

Restrictions and conditions on users to stop the freedom process. Every behavior is controlled by dominators.

Rules from predator to subjects are sometimes masks but they are:

1. Access limitations for almost everybody exception for the chief. The chief has time for himself and just himself.
2. Predator wants people to be confine in a function for their profit purpose, no more no less.

Politics of control are about the process not the person. People are not significant, they are just a function. Other control that they want is about the climate because they does not want a rebellion that may make them loose their slaves or their profits. Masks could be discovered and this situation may stop. Politics are established to permit the superior to control with more success without softness and without transparency.

People that are controlled will lost their sanity in work to do, task to accomplish, how to do without mistakes, how not to be blamed. Employees without a personal doubt of themselves, will be able to free themselves from those psychological principles of power.

Subsection 4.3.3 - stop by non access to freedom

Center of control has principle of power that is:

People are stopped having access to freedom. They do not have the key to become autonomous, confident with the information. They are dependant of variables that are not under their control. They are dependants psychologically, in their body, emotionally, financially from center of control.

Chiefs keep access and stop access to other guys. Sometimes, some chiefs are invisible, masked, not known and they are those who really make decisions that they force other people to execute after it. This center of control will always work to stop individualization. Center of control will always worked for their power against others.

Here, we must be careful about our politicians of different countries taking rights by their army, their security services, to obtain confidential information about people, technologies, behaviours without asking for any consent.

This non access to freedom must be destroy for Universal Accessibility for a wellbeing of individual center of communication. People does not have to be tracked or in prison by those center of control.

Subsection 4.3.4 - control of the direction of the information

Figure 4.3.4: Control de direction of information

Center of control has a. principle of power that is:

Control of the direction of the information permits to be more powerful.

- Upper level send information that he gives approbation
- Lower level send information to intermediary level not to the chief and if so, the chief will not answer directly.
- This is to put confusion in the flow of information and to control the direction of information to keep the chief in an insane control of information.

This phenomena is to give more power to the chief because he is the only one who has supreme power on decision on process on budget on how to manage clients on business reports on resource on production. He is in control of information,
However some events occur:

- some attacks against this control freak
- intrusions
- lost control of his hell and jungle

Personal Center of communication may make him loose control. One person may develop his own individual power and become autonomous. He may stop center of control to control him. He is not becoming a victim, a pray. He may be free by using Internet. Internet may be his friend by using Google, Facebook and other tools for his benefit. Personal Center of Communication may be used telecommunications systems in a way that it is adapted to his need. For this purpose, brightness and good will required by personal center of communication to see through the wall of control and bad information.

Subsection 4.3.5 - power to destroy other

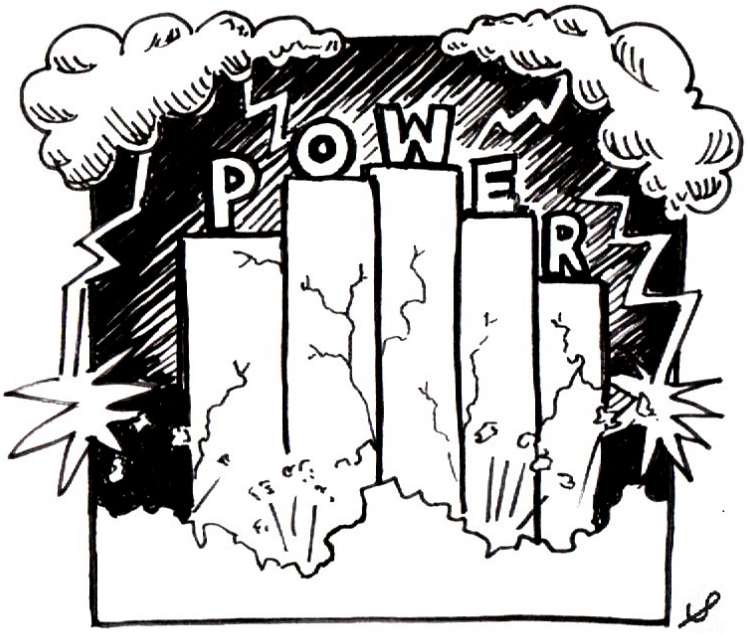

Figure 4.3.5: Power to destroy other

Center of control has a principle of power that is Power to destroy others:

1. to jail human
2. to make people lose their personal power
3. to slave people
4. to make people lose their job

Vampirism, burned out, drop-out are results of those destructive powers. Problems appear when center of control are in action.

Everybody is responsible not to let center of control take controlled over them. They must be strong to stop this invasion whatever the cost they will pay. They have not to become a pray to those predators. The consequence to act on not becoming slaved is their own freedom in Humanitarian psychology.

Subsection 4.3.6 - violation of autonomy

Center of control has a principle of power that is to violate autonomous behaviour.

1. Punishment when an employee thinks freely and does not followed strict restrictive rules,
2. Registration of information without asking for acceptance, spying on people
3. Control of information that gives credit to the dominator,
4. Globalisation of power to put more oppression on persons that becomes more slaves, dependants,
5. Power to stop information, to force silence when the mask is in danger to be discovered
6. Power to stop freedom, reality, information that may destroy the mask. Power to stop communication flow that may destroy power trip.

Subsection 4.3.7 - totalitarism

Figure4.3.7: Totalitarism

Center of control has principle of power that is totalitarism.

This totalitarism destroys total quality in people, products, life forms. This is the principle that all profits go to powerful men. Those powerful guys used small people for their own utilities.

Totalitarism political regime is a lot of power for the leader and gives quite nothing for people. People are not authorized to be creative, free of expression with a critical spirit. People are forced to be slaves. Totalitarism and dictature are similar by the facts that for State purpose, they take control of security, economics, education. Totalitarism is a lot of power for the center of control and oblige execution of orders for others.

The best way to identify those totalitarism personnalities is whatever they say, when you take a look to the way they respect human rights, you will know. If they does not respect human rights, you have your answer that they are center of control. Center of control abuses power, abuse trust, abuse directly people, committed disguised crimes.

It is important that each individual center of communication used a Humanitarian psychology and protects themself from these types of situations. One day, those centers of control will unmasks and will appeared as Evil as they are.

Subsection 4.3.8 – information systems used for defensive and offensive means

Figure4.3.8: War systems

Center of control has principle of power that is to use information for their profit.

They capture information instead of letting information in his own flow:

1. in offensive : information is used to attack the adversary
2. in defensive : information is used to win over the other part by attacking back
3. between two wars: information is stocked but does not flow.

It is alienation in communication to stock information without using it to reduce the communication process and put it for archives only.

Possession of information is alienation in communication because nobody can use it to develop, expand society life.

Information for their profit is principle of power and means:

1. bad information: bad information instead of real information is sent to others
2. desinformation: wrong information at their profit is also diffused
3. changing the time frame, the person involved and the place to confuse people about events is also a desinformation technic.
4. transmission of confusing information keeping power whatever the ways.

Subsection 4.3.9 - central system for money capitalization

Center of control has a principle of power that is:

Making money whatever the way is done without respect for ourselves and other. A person has no identity, she is there as a function in the organisation to make money.

At the beginning, they used traps to capture people:

1. Save for your retired period
2. Give for third country to help them become wealthier and we are administer
3. Have debt for your desires and dreams becoming reality
4. Insure you with us when you travel, for your cars, for your life insurance
5 .To protect your goods against thieves, you need our security systems

Those messages looks O.K. by themself. It is the way they are used that is dangerous. They are used to capture and vampirized resources after being able to access. The master mind has no identity too because he does not want to be recognize for his action in case of being pursue. the master mind knows that he is a predator and that he will eat his pray.

People may be corrupted however they are rich or poor. The rich has never enough. The poor desires more and he is afraid of not having enough too. Individual center of communication must be aware about all those economical dangers.

Subsection 4.3.10 - fixity and rigidity of system

Figure 4.3.10: Fixity and rigidity

Center of control has a psychological principle of power that is fixity and rigidity.

Systems are not adaptable: (1) in a time frame, (2) to people needs, (3) to new technological features. There is no constancy to maintain quality.

Those systems do not take care of users needs: (1) to develop themselves, (2) to maintain quality for users, (3) autonomous needs. Those systems forces each person to comply on their instructions.

Those systems forces regulations, validations done by them and under their controls.

Those monster of center of control continue to possess their users. They abused their users and they wants to make them complies with their profit objectives as center of control.

Their central computers are programmed to control as much as possible:

- users and specialist
- program system, administrators and passive users
- people that have been hacked without knowing about this

Center of control has principle of power that is irresponsibility about consequences on users. They do what they want and they think that if the users is not able to stop them, they just have to suffer results. If the user react, they will attack him.

They destroy integrity in communication because there is no real communication just control and power trip over users. They manipulate population, they make them suffers. They sacrifice some society groups for more profits.

They also buy people for doing with their rules however they are not legal. They program people to obey them or they will be punished.

Subsection 4.3.12 - control whatever the price

Center of control has a principle of power that is they do it whatever the human price.

Users will have no access to archives about the way they operate.

Commands of center of control are private, nobody has access.

Information is in dark territory, information is invisible. Government, companies, organisms keep secret information.

The jail of keeping information is also the dominator jail and some slaves are also in this jail. It is some time comfort jail but it stays a jail. However they try to free themselves, they are not able because it is a psychological jail of power over others. They could not see light over their head, and when they see light over their heads, they do not ask for help from light.

Exit door from jail was, is and will be to stop being using principle of power to use Humanitarian psychology.

Chapter 5 - Futuristic Science

Figure5: Futuristic Science

In the future there is two majors possibilities:

--- Paradise constructed with Humanitarian psychology. Each person protects herselves and others. They fulfill their destiny. They evolve as much as they can and as fast as they can.

and/or

--- Jungle made by power. Where robots are following war rules. Master mind takes power over other minds. People suffers in different aspects.

Section 5.1 - Futuristic Science

Laws of paradise or cosmic laws are based on qualities that are generosity, order, harmony in connexion with Universal communications networks. Laws of paradise are powerful laws that governs multiple planets and systems.

Earth will benefit from those laws when :

1. They will be able to master survival on this planet,
2. They will have to follow rules on this planet,
3. They will have to know and master jungle rules,
4. They have to be free from hells.

Laws of paradise are to protect existing life and the expansion of life:

1. Earth must protect the people, the vegetation, the Nations and all what represents life.
2. Earth must permit the expansion of life by being kind for less fortunates people, being able to give what they need to others, being able to create alliances with people that are not exactly like others.

Laws of paradise and cosmic laws are in syncronisation with Humanitarian psychology.

Section 5.2 - Laws of Paradise

From the Bible to Club Méd :

Bible Paradise is Eden garden. Nature is gorgeous, fruits and flowers are available. Animals are kinds and water, milk, honey and wine flows. In this garden, everybodies are happy and prosperious. Those are stereotypes of Paradise: Eden Garden , Arcadie, Utopics communities, Club Méd, Ibiza, etc.

Paradise laws or cosmic laws are based on generosity, order, harmony, connexions with universal evolution.

On Earth, people who knows cosmic laws have the duties:

1. To succeed being supra human meaning a mentor for others.
2. To succeed having a normal life.
3. To Succeed with jungle laws.
4. To succeed not to stay in hells without their will.

Paradise laws are based on protection and expansion of life. Alliances between people need to be created.

Section 5.3 - Laws of the Jungle or Hell

Figure5.3: Jungle

Jungles rules are based on the principle that the big one will abuse the small one. Hells laws are the same but a level worst than jungle laws. Hells laws applies often in war situation.

The small one is the one who is mistaken with: shame, doubt of himsef, insecurity, guilt, anxiety, confusion. He is not able to be himself. He is sad and mad. Those weakness makes suffering patterns.

The big one use soul passions such as: vanity, envy, anger, hate for man, lasyness. Those passions could cause that the person will descent to Hell without consenting. This is a Master destructive Mind that could not stop himself to destroy.

This book is written to permit people to ascend not to descend to Hell. That is why we will continue to the Epilogue instead of explaining what Hell is.

Epilogue

Figure: Epilogue

To conclude, people may accomplish their life with a communication process of well being without downgrading their life with bad communication process that give them a false power over people, animal, vegetal and mineral kingdoms.

Communication process of well being in Humanitarian psychology:

a. Communication that gives transcendence to the egoîstic person.
b. This is a universal process because this permit creativity.
c. This is psychology because it is beyond ordinary ways of life.
d. It is humanitarian because it permit a better life for human being.
e. This a process that is not just psychological because it is based on generous behaviours that will permit new prosperity.
f. This psychology does not desire power over other people.
g. This is personal power that shine strength, integrity of life laws at different level of development.

Those conceptual elements gives access to a well being for each person that wants to progress in our time and in our space.
